AFRICA'S CAMPUS BATTLE

UNAPOLOGETICALLY TALENTED

ACB SEASON 6

CONTENT

3 From The CEO'S Desk

4 Mission, Vission, Core Values & Impact

5 Get To Know The Team

6 Aligning with SDGs

7 The Jury and Host

8 Highlight on The Finalists

11 Spotlight on the Winner

14 Season 6 Pictorials

17 Highlight on Title Sponsor Lush

18 Health Matters

19 Karen Village and Uber

20 AASU-ACB Partnership

22 Other Partners & Thank You

23 Season 7 Poster

FROM THE CEO'S DESK

As we celebrate the incredible journey of Africa's Campus Battle (ACB) Season 6, 2024, I am reminded of the transformative power of talent, creativity, and determination. ACB has always been more than just a competition—it is a stage for change, where young dreamers from across the continent showcase their artistry, innovation, and resilience.

From our humble beginnings ten years ago in 2014 with just five universities to welcoming participants from 28 countries, ACB has become a force for impact. Through performing arts, over 200,000 students across Africa have found their voice, using their raw talent to challenge the status quo and shape the future.

They've been labeled rebellious, entitled, restless—but we see them for who they truly are: bold, resilient, and unapologetically talented. They are innovators, storytellers, and visionaries, ready to redefine Africa's creative landscape.

At ACB, we believe that beauty, creativity, and talent have the power to transform lives. We have seen this in the breathtaking performances, the compelling stories, and the personal growth of every participant. This magazine is a tribute to that journey—a celebration of the dreams, challenges, and victories of our finalists, judges, mentors, partners, and the entire ACB community.

Looking ahead, our mission remains steadfast: to amplify the voices of young African creatives, provide them with platforms to shine, and create opportunities for growth and success. ACB is not just empowering youth; it is giving brands and partners a front-row seat to the future—one where creativity sparks transformation, and passion fuels progress.

ACB Season 7 promises to be even bigger, expanded reach, and an even greater impact on the creative landscape of Africa.

To every participant, sponsor, partner and supporter who has been part of season six's success, I extend my heartfelt gratitude. Together, we are shaping the future of Africa—one talent at a time.

Everlyne Mutunga Ang'ila
CEO, Africa's Campus Battle

MISSION, VISION, CORE VALUES, & IMPACT NUMBERS

We are Africa's Campus Battle, the premier continental stage where young talent from universities becomes a force for change. Through dance, music, spoken word and performing arts, ACB is empowering Africa's Gen Z to transform their creativity into real impact, rewriting the future with unapologetic authenticity.

OUR VISION

is to make every campus a stage for change, where Africa's brightest voices shape a sustainable future.

OUR MISSION

is to ignite Africa's campuses with purpose-driven talent, challenging young creatives to use their art as a force for social impact. With the SDGs as our guide, ACB connects brands with a generation dedicated to a brighter future.

OUR CORE VALUES

1. Empowerment – Enabling individuals to grow, shine, and reach their full potential.
2. Inclusivity – Creating a diverse, welcoming environment where everyone can succeed and make a difference.
3. Integrity – Upholding honesty, fairness, and transparency in all our endeavors.
4. Excellence – Striving for top-tier quality and delivering outstanding experiences.
5. Impact – Making a positive, lasting difference in the lives of young people and communities.
6. Fun – We create an electrifying, high-energy space where creativity thrives, talent shines, and every moment is an experience to enjoy, connect, and celebrate.

IMPACT OVER THE YEARS

200K+	28	10,000USD	50K+
Students	Countries in Africa	Scholarships and prizes	Participants in physical events

MEET THE TEAM

Lamech Ang'ila – Founder and Director
As the Founder of Africa's Campus Battle, Lamech Angila envisioned a platform that would bring university students together through the power of performing arts, while also championing the Sustainable Development Goals. His commitment to youth empowerment and his expertise in fostering partnerships have made ACB a unique and impactful talent competition. Lamech remains dedicated to expanding the platform's influence across Africa and beyond.

Everlyne Mutunga Ang'ila- CEO
Everlyne brings visionary leadership to ACB as the CEO, overseeing strategic growth and steering the organization toward its mission to inspire and empower young creatives across Africa. With a wealth of experience in management and a passion for youth development, Everlyne ensures the seamless execution of ACB's operations and partnerships, fostering an environment where emerging talent can thrive on a continental stage.

Edwin Mutoro - Finance and Admin Director
With over a decade of experience in financial consulting, Edwin Mutoro heads ACB's finance and administration department, ensuring fiscal responsibility and operational efficiency. His meticulous approach to financial management supports the sustainable growth of the organization, while his administrative oversight maintains the integrity of ACB's operations, helping to create a financially resilient foundation for future competitions.

Biko Nyongesa - Creative Director
As the Creative Director, Biko Nyongesa is the driving force behind ACB's artistic vision, designing innovative stage experiences and bringing out the best in each performer. His keen eye for visual storytelling and extensive background in production ensure that ACB consistently delivers captivating and memorable performances. Biko's creativity is central to the vibrant atmosphere that sets ACB apart.

Ann Nyokabi - Social Media Manager
Ann Nyokabi is the voice of ACB on social media, managing the organization's digital presence and engaging audiences across Africa. Her strategic approach to social media ensures that ACB's message resonates widely, while her ability to foster online communities supports the growth of a loyal and enthusiastic fan base. Ann's work keeps ACB's digital footprint strong, building excitement and connection with audiences continent-wide.

A PLATFORM FOR CHANGE, ALIGNING WITH SDGS

Since its inception, ACB has been committed to creating an inclusive, accessible, and transformative platform for young people across Africa. The competition, which sees participants from universities around the continent, is more than just a contest for fame—it is an opportunity to make a difference by focusing on the SDGs that impact Africa's future. Each season, ACB builds its challenges and activities around these global goals, ensuring that the issues most relevant to the continent, such as poverty, inequality, and environmental sustainability, are at the forefront.

The SDGs are central to ACB's strategy. From the early stages of planning each season, ACB incorporates various SDGs into its competition framework, using them as both challenges and guiding principles. For instance:

- Quality Education (SDG 4): ACB encourages contestants to engage in projects that promote learning, mentorship, and innovative educational solutions. Through the mentorship workshops, where seasoned professionals share their knowledge, participants are empowered with skills that go beyond the competition.

- Gender Equality (SDG 5): Gender equality is woven into the fabric of the competition, providing a platform for both female and male participants to showcase their talents and ideas. ACB actively works to close the gender gap, promoting equal representation and opportunity for all.

- Climate Action (SDG 13): The SDGs' call for climate action is reflected in ACB's commitment to sustainability. By integrating environmental challenges into the competition, ACB inspires participants to develop eco-friendly projects, raise awareness about climate change, and contribute to protecting the continent's natural resources.

- Partnerships for the Goals (SDG 17): Collaboration is key in achieving the SDGs, and ACB thrives on creating a strong network of partners. By working with organizations, governments, and other stakeholders, ACB fosters a community-driven approach to addressing Africa's challenges.

As ACB gears up for its upcoming season, its focus on the SDGs remains unwavering. The upcoming Season 7 will continue to place the SDGs at the heart of its activities, with an emphasis on making a difference in the lives of young people and the communities they serve. With more universities and participants joining from across the continent, the impact of ACB is poised to grow exponentially.

THE JURY AND HOST

ACB Season 6 was led by a distinguished panel of judges and skillfully moderated by Brian Aseli, a world-class MC known for his impeccable wit, charm, and language expression, making him the perfect host. With extensive experience in radio, TV shows, plays, and corporate events, Brian brought an engaging and dynamic energy to the competition.

Judges

1. Mr. Patrick Oketch (aka Uncle Charlie) – With 15 years of experience, Mr. Patrick Oketch, affectionately known as Uncle Charlie, is an innovative educator, actor, writer, and content creator. His professional journey spans both the education and media sectors, with a deep passion for teaching, acting, and screen and playwriting. He has worked closely with ACB finalists since Season 2 and played a significant role in mentoring them. Uncle Charlie's contributions to ACB have been profound, and in Season 6, he had the unique opportunity to witness one of his mentees being crowned the ultimate winner, completing the journey they started together.
2. Mufasa Poet – A versatile performing poet, actor, writer, and teaching artist, Mufasa Poet is known for using spoken word art to bring to life works inspired by day-to-day life on the African continent. His dynamic artistry made him an invaluable part of the judging panel.
3. Kerry Kagiri – A performing artist, media personality, and creative consultant with over 10 years of experience, Kerry Kagiri excels in hosting corporate events, making music, and curating content for stage and screen. Her passion for using the arts to make a positive impact on lives was reflected in her careful and constructive feedback throughout the competition.
4. Obillo Ng'ongo – A dedicated language instructor and education administrator by day, Obillo Ng'ongo is also a seasoned actor and accomplished theatre director. His passion for bringing stories to life on stage, with precision and emotional depth, added tremendous value to the panel's insights and decisions.
5. Dr. Zippy Okoth: An award-winning filmmaker and storyteller, lecturer of Film & Theatre Arts at KCA University, and French-African Young Leader Laureate, Dr. Zippy brings a wealth of expertise to the ACB Season 6 judging panel, shaping the next generation of creative talent.

HIGHLIGHT ON FINALISTS

1. Isca Allegria Niyocubahiro (18) - Burundi/Rwanda | Music

Currently studying at African Leadership University in Rwanda, Isca discovered her passion for music at the age of 10 while singing in a choir. She dreamed of making music her career and saw ACB Season 6 as the perfect stage to showcase her talent and gain valuable experience in the industry. Her motivation stemmed from the opportunity to finally present her skills to the world and experience new challenges that helped her establish her career. Passionate about promoting peace, justice, and strong institutions (SDG 16), she performed a powerful piece advocating for peace and justice at the grand finale.

2. Jackline Godfrey Malavanu (22) - Tanzania | Spoken Word

A Bachelor of Pharmacy student at Muhimbili University of Health and Allied Sciences, Jackline was a spoken word poet moved by the beauty and struggles of life. She was also a digital marketer aiming to connect with diverse audiences. She saw ACB as a platform to impact the poetry world and make it more accessible to Gen Z while also shining a spotlight on her university. At the grand finale, she delivered a moving piece highlighting the importance of ending hunger and achieving food security (SDG 2) and the need for food security across Africa.

3. Benjamin Dinda (21) - Zambia | Rap

Known as Dexter, Benjamin studied International Economics and Logistics at Université Chouaib Doukkali. He was an aspiring wordsmith passionate about literature and film. His lyrical work highlighted sustainability and the African Union's Agenda 2063. He believed ACB offered an opportunity to showcase his voice and creativity on a larger stage. At the grand finale, he performed a thought-provoking rap about the urgent need to protect marine life and promote sustainable ocean conservation (SDG 14) and sustain our oceans.

4. Sebongile Tsosane (21) - Lesotho | Spoken Word

A student at USIU-Africa studying International Relations, Sebongile was an award-winning poet committed to raising awareness of social issues. She led an NGO called Ignite a Spark, advocating for sustainable development goals. She saw ACB as an opportunity to further her cause, securing support for education projects in Kenya and Lesotho. Her performance at the grand finale centered on fostering global partnerships for sustainable development (SDG 17), inspiring collaboration and unity for a better future.

5. Ishimwe Liesse (24) - Burundi | Music

Currently pursuing a degree in Medicine at the University of Burundi, Liesse was always passionate about music. Encouraged by a classmate, she took the bold step to join ACB. Her performance of “Dernière Danse” by Indila conveyed emotions of pain, sorrow, and resilience. She hoped ACB would give her the exposure and growth she sought as an artist. Deeply aligned with the principles of peace, justice, and strong institutions (SDG 16), her finale performance called for peace and justice across the continent.

6. David Oreofeoluwa Jesutofunmi (20) - Nigeria | Beatboxing

A Computer Engineering student at the University of Lagos, David, known as Rolie, was a talented beatboxer. His ability to create percussion sounds with his mouth set him apart. He saw ACB as the ideal platform to put his art out into the world and refine his skills. He used his grand finale performance to champion the fight against inequality (SDG 10), advocating for equal opportunities through his rhythmic, dynamic beats.

7. Dieudonné Rondouba Djékoura (25) - Chad | Spoken Word

A passionate slam poet and cybersecurity student at ENASTIC, Dieudonné competed in multiple national competitions. He aimed to use ACB as a stepping stone to expand his artistic and social impact, utilizing his poetry to denounce injustices and celebrate positivity in society. His finale performance embodied the spirit of promoting justice, peace, and strong institutions (SDG 16), addressing human rights issues and human rights.

8. Eliud Edgar Etemesi (21) - Kenya | Dance

A student at Kabarak University studying Music Theory and Composition, Eliud was a talented dancer and aspiring composer. His performances focused on mental health awareness, using contemporary hip-hop and lyrical dance to spread messages of hope and self-awareness. His finale dance piece powerfully represented the fight against poverty (SDG 1), depicting struggles and resilience and the resilience to overcome adversity.

9. Joy Ushe (19) - Zimbabwe/South Africa/Kenya | Music

A Zimbabwean raised in South Africa, Joy studied Psychology at Africa Nazarene University. Coming from an artistic family, she used music to share relatable gospel messages with the youth. After missing out the previous season, she returned to ACB with renewed passion and determination to grow. Her grand finale performance highlighted the importance of peace, justice, and institutional reform (SDG 16), calling for systemic change, and institutional reform.

10. Ian Masinza Saya (22) - Kenya | Spoken Word

Also known as Abobo, Ian was a poet, writer, and football coach studying Commerce at Kaimosi Friends University. His powerful spoken word piece, “Hizi Streets,” captured the raw realities of urban life, conveying stories of struggle, hope, and resilience. His finale performance was a stirring call to action for eradicating poverty (SDG 1), emphasizing economic empowerment.

11. Degbe Sharon Ayelley (21) - Ghana | Music

A Psychology and French student at the University of Ghana, Sharon had loved music since childhood. She described music as her language and escape, using ACB as an opportunity to fulfill her dream of showcasing her talent on a grand stage. Her finale song emphasized the importance of protecting land ecosystems and biodiversity (SDG 15), raising awareness of environmental conservation and the protection of land ecosystems.

SPOTLIGHT ON THE WINNER

AFRICA'S CAMPUS BATTLE
SEASON 6

JACKLINE MALAVANU

AFRICA'S CAMPUS BATTLE
UNAPOLOGETICALLY TALENTED

ACB CHAMPION: THE JOURNEY & THE FUTURE

1. What inspired you to take part in ACB Season 6, and what kept you going throughout the competition?

I was inspired to join the competition by the unwavering faith my friend Paul had in me. He saw a gem in me that I hadn't yet discovered, so I started this journey by walking with his faith.

What kept me going was the fairness of the competition and the immense potential for growth it offered. With honest judges and incredibly talented youth, I had the privilege of learning so much throughout the journey.

2. How has being a part of ACB helped you grow - both as an artist and as a person?

As an artist, ACB has opened doors to even bigger stages worldwide. It has shaped me into not just a great performer but an intentional one, inspiring me to deliver more life-changing messages that move people and encourage positive change.

As a person, it has taught me humility. I now understand that to reach greater heights, listening, observing, and learning are essential.

3. What was the toughest moment for you during the competition, and how did you push through it?

The toughest moment was during the semifinals when I had back-to-back exams and had to submit my video. I had no equipment and very little time to practice.

A friend lent me the necessary equipment, and another friend helped shoot the video. I almost quit multiple times that day—the rooftop was too sunny, the wind was strong, and other locations were too noisy since it was midday. But she ensured we got a good take. Truth be told, if it weren't for her, I might have given up.

4. How do you think ACB is changing the game for young talent in Africa?

ACB is doing something truly unique—it is giving a platform to diverse talents, including those that might not have been considered "mainstream" before. Unlike other competitions that focus solely on music, ACB allows artists to be as creative as possible and showcase a variety of art forms.

5. Winning ACB Season 6 is a huge achievement. How does it feel, and what does it mean to you personally?

I feel incredibly blessed, honored, and favored. This victory reminds me that I have a responsibility to keep moving forward, to bless more people, and to inspire youth to utilize their talents.

On a personal level, it signifies growth and has strengthened my faith. I now believe that no mountain is too high to climb if I have faith and put in the effort.

6. Looking back, what's one moment during ACB that you'll never forget?

The moment my name was announced as the winner of ACB Season 6! I was overwhelmed with joy and gratitude because God had answered my prayers.

7. Now that you've won, how do you plan to use this platform and the opportunities to make a difference in your community?

I plan to mentor more youth, especially in the healthcare industry, on how to use their talents to bring about change. I understand that I won't live forever, so I want to document my experiences and ensure that my community benefits from my knowledge, particularly in alignment with the UN SDGs.

8. How do you believe art, music, and creativity can make a real difference in Africa's future?

There are so many important messages people need to hear, but often, they don't pay attention because those messages are not delivered in an engaging way. Art, music, and creativity provide an enjoyable yet powerful means of communication, leaving a lasting impact and inspiring change.

9. What advice would you give to other young dreamers who want to follow their creative passions?

Just do it! Learn, relearn, unlearn, and then give it your all. There is absolutely nothing you cannot achieve if you believe in yourself.

10. What's next for you as an artist? How are you planning to keep pushing boundaries in your field?

There is so much to come! In January 2025, I will be publishing my first-ever anthology (poetry book). I have also started professionally recording my pieces and making them available on all music and video streaming platforms.

My dream is to integrate my talent into as many platforms as possible and share my messages with the world. I also see myself stepping into the film industry in the future.

11. The support from ACB's partners, like Lush Hair and Karen Village, played a big role in your journey. How did that impact your experience in the competition?

Their unwavering support, especially in funding, made my experience in Nairobi truly memorable. As artists, we have the talent, but we need a helping hand to ensure the world sees the light we can shine. These partners were the powerhouse behind that visibility.

12. If you could sum up your ACB experience in one word, what would it be and why?

UNFORGETTABLE.
I experienced a journey that was different, challenging, yet wonderful. I built lasting friendships and connections. And to top it all off, the grand finale was on my birthday—and I won! It's truly an experience I will never forget.

Jackline's Homecoming: Handing over the Anthony Athaide Trophy to the VC and DVCs of Muhimbili University- Tanzania

ACB FRAMES

Chief Guest, Mr. Raymond, with Judges and ACB Directors

Karen Village stand

Hype session

Chief Guest, Mr. Raymond Ochieng, Secretary for Youth Development, State Department for Youth.

Ms. Elizabeth Maina – Head of Marketing, Lush Hair Kenya

Mr. Lamech Ang'ila – ACB Founder and Director.

ACB sponsors: Uber, Lush Hair, Ambassadors, High Commissioners, and Kenya Deans of Students Association representatives.

Sanaa Post media team

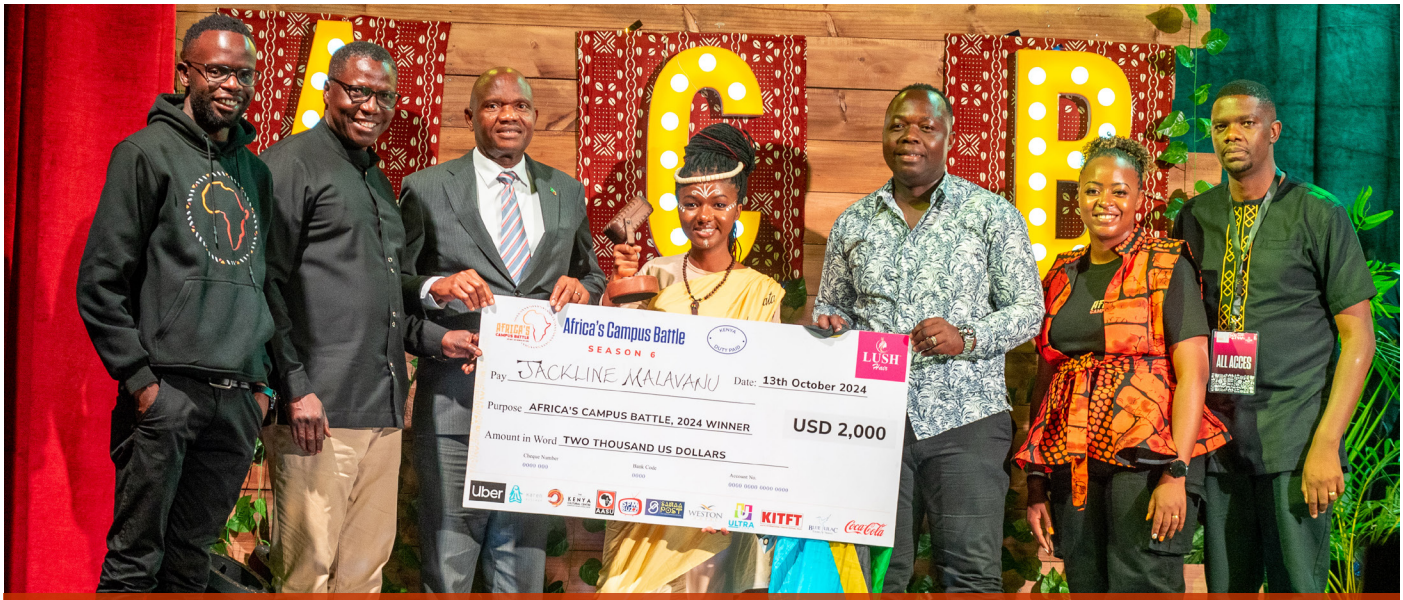
Ushers

Creative Director and crew

Chief Guest, Mr. Raymond, with ACB Founder

Brian Aseli (Host), MC Ted, and the Winner

ACB fans



Winner with Chief Guest Mr. Raymond, ACB Directors, Zambia High Commissioner, and KUDSA Representative

Miss County Kenya, Wakesho Mwashori.

Judges

Makeup session by Paula

Karen Village tile painting stand

Ted the Emcee

Audience

Title sponsors Lush Hair Kenya with the Winner

LUSH Hair

HIGHLIGHT ON TITLE SPONSOR LUSH

LUSH HAIR EMPOWERING TALENT, CELEBRATING BEAUTY

Lush Hair Kenya has once again taken center stage as the Title Sponsor of Africa's Campus Battle (ACB) Season 6, continuing their unwavering commitment to empowering youth and celebrating African creativity. Known for their philosophy that "Beauty Begins with You," Lush Hair has become a powerful symbol of self-expression, confidence, and authenticity.

By sponsoring ACB for the second consecutive year, Lush Hair has shown its dedication not only to style but to creating platforms that amplify the voices and talents of African youth. Their support of ACB goes beyond simply promoting beauty—it's about nurturing self-confidence, empowering individuals to embrace their uniqueness, and creating opportunities for future leaders to shine.

This partnership with ACB is a testament to Lush Hair's belief in the power of community, creativity, and inclusivity. Through this collaboration, Lush Hair continues to fuel the dreams of young African talents, ensuring they have the confidence to chase their passions and make their mark on the world.

Thank you, Lush Hair Kenya, for believing in the transformative power of creativity and for supporting ACB's mission to showcase Africa's untapped potential. Together, we're shaping a future where beauty and talent are celebrated, and dreams are realized.

With Lush Hair, it's not just about looking good—it's about feeling confident, embracing your individuality, and celebrating your talent! Beauty Begins with You!

HEALTH MATTERS

Another Season, another reason!

I cannot get more excited to share some insights on health matters. Young people hold a lot of transformative potential that can be tapped to change societies. However, health challenges, substance use and abuse as well as accidents and injuries frequently rob the youth of this potential. I'll shoot straight to the commonest 'lack xury" we all seem to have adopted hitherto; Your favorite Hubble-bubble that we all seem to be hooked to! Well, Shisha is what I mean, or Hookah as is called in some Asian countries.

The global prevalence of Shisha smoking averages 8-14% and numbers hardly lie! I'm sure whoever conducted that survey has not visited Nairobi huh! Substance smoking in the form of Shisha, vape, cigarettes and the rest have research-proven health risks. These include changes in the lungs with risks for breathing difficulties, lung cancers and cardiovascular risks that include high blood pressure, increased heart rates by average of 6-13 beats per minute, heart attack, and high cholesterol levels. There is documented increase in prevalence rates of mouth, lung and stomach cancers among a younger population than it was 50 years ago and smoking substances laced with tar, nicotine and other harmful products are partly to blame. So, I will suggest that we get unhooked from the pipe!

Before I go, let me touch on my favorite! Ungloved hanky panky! Friends, last time we agreed to rubber it up. There is a steady rise in the prevalence of sexually transmitted infections like the Super-G, increase in new HIV infections with youths accounting for more than 40% of the new infections, unwanted pregnancies with all its associated cousins in the name of unsafe abortions and maternal deaths. Cancer of the cervix has been shown to be caused by HPV virus which we know to be sexually transmitted especially among people with multiple sexual partners. So what can we do!! Wrap it, wear that sock or abstain where applic-able! I cannot over emphasize the need to have HPV testing as well as HPV vaccinations to prevent CANCER of the cervix as well as penile cancer! Let's go get Shots! Vaccine shots!

Dr Maina Ngoigo
mainangoigo@gmail.com
Gynecologist and HIFU specialist

KAREN VILLAGE: EMPOWERING DREAMS, ELEVATING TALENT AT ACB SEASON 6

Karen Village has always been a space that celebrates creativity, innovation, and community. As a proud sponsor of Africa's Campus Battle (ACB) Season 6, Karen Village brought its vibrant energy and vision to the competition by awarding a fully paid trip to London to the winner—an opportunity that will forever change the trajectory of the recipient's life.

Our village is a living hub for media, art, culture, and innovation. From our expertly curated event and conference center to our creative offices, meeting spaces, and diverse food court, we provide an environment where imagination thrives. The winner of ACB Season 6 will have the chance to explore even more possibilities in London, a city known for its rich art scene and creative industries.

With a community that includes artists, radio stations, social entrepreneurs, wellness centers, eateries, fashion designers, sculptors, digital artists, and so much more, Karen Village is dedicated to supporting youth and creative minds across Africa. We host workshops, exhibitions, and tours that nurture innovation and offer new perspectives.

By supporting ACB, Karen Village is not just investing in talent but actively shaping the future of Africa's creatives, providing the resources and exposure that can catapult young artists onto the global stage. We are proud to be part of a movement that fuels dreams, fosters collaboration, and amplifies voices that will lead the way to a brighter tomorrow.

UBER DRIVING DREAMS FORWARD WITH ACB

A huge shoutout to Uber for making ACB Season 6 a smooth ride all the way! Uber didn't just help us get from one event to the next; they played a crucial role in supporting the future of Africa's youth. Uber is all about creating opportunities, and their partnership with ACB goes far beyond just offering rides—it's about opening doors for young people to chase their dreams.

This year, Uber, through ACB gave jobs to over 200 university students in Kenya, providing them with a chance to earn, learn, and build their future while contributing to a vibrant gig economy. By partnering with Uber, these students are gaining valuable experience and financial independence, while also being part of a global movement that's reshaping how we work and connect.

Uber's impact doesn't stop at the wheels—it's in the people, the stories, and the opportunities they help create. So, whether you're headed to your next audition or just need a lift, remember that Uber is not only getting you there—it's supporting your journey along the way.

Thank you, Uber, for your continuous support in empowering thousands of students to pave their way to a brighter future. Ready to roll with Uber? Hop in and join the movement!

AASU-ACB PARTNERSHIP

A Catalyst for Youth Empowerment in Africa

The All-Africa Students Union (AASU) is proud to collaborate with Africa's Campus Battle (ACB), an initiative that celebrates creativity, talent, and excellence. This partnership underscores our shared vision of empowering the Continent's youth by providing platforms to showcase their diverse skills, foster cultural exchanges, and inspire innovative solutions to global challenges.

Together, the AASU and ACB have created a dynamic synergy that aligns with our mission to advocate for the rights and welfare of African students while promoting educational opportunities and sustainable development. The ACB talent competition has not only highlighted Africa's rich cultural tapestry but also reinforced the belief that young people are central to the Continent's progress.

Founded in 1972, the All-Africa Students Union (AASU) serves as an umbrella organisation for African students at all levels of education. With a presence in 54 African countries and over 170 million students represented, AASU remains a dominant force in advocating for students' rights and advancing socio-economic, political, and cultural progress across the Continent. Our work is grounded in the principles of access, equity, and equality in education, with a firm commitment to building the capacity of young Africans to shape a brighter future.

Through capacity-building initiatives, gender advocacy, environmental action, and the promotion of Pan-Africanism, we are creating a generation of leaders equipped to navigate the complexities of the 21st century. AASU's partnerships, like those with ACB, seeks to amplify our impact and connect students to opportunities that foster growth, collaboration, and creativity.

The partnership with ACB exemplifies the power of collaboration in driving youth-led development. By integrating the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) into its framework, ACB provides a unique platform for students to showcase their talents and engage in meaningful dialogue and actions on pressing global issues. This aligns seamlessly with AASU's vision of mobilising students to lead Africa's transformation.

As we celebrate the success of ACB Season 6, AASU invites students, universities, and stakeholders across Africa to join us on this transformative journey. Together, we can continue to unleash the potential of African youth and inspire a generation to shape a brighter future for the continent.

"The partnership with ACB exemplifies the power of collaboration in driving youth-led development. By integrating the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) into its framework, ACB provides a unique platform for students to showcase their talents and engage in meaningful dialogue and actions on pressing global issues. This aligns seamlessly with AASU's vision of mobilising students to lead Africa's transformation."

Peter Kwasi KODJIE
Secretary General
All-Africa Students Union (AASU)

AASU-ACB PARTNERSHIP

OTHER PARTNERS & THANK YOU NOTE

A Heartfelt Thank You to Our Partners and Sponsors

As we close the chapter on ACB Season 6, we extend our deepest gratitude to all our incredible partners and sponsors. Your unwavering support, generosity, and belief in the vision of ACB have played a pivotal role in making this season a resounding success.

Your contributions have not only elevated the platform but have also ignited change in the lives of countless young creatives across Africa. Through your partnership, you have empowered voices that might have otherwise gone unheard, nurtured dreams, and propelled talent onto the global stage.

ACB is more than a competition; it is a movement, a force for transformation, and a beacon of opportunity. Thanks to you, we continue to inspire the next generation of leaders, artists, and visionaries who will shape the future of Africa.

From the entire ACB family, thank you for being part of this incredible journey.

KITFT
KENYA INTERNATIONAL THEATRE FESTIVAL TRUST

THE KENYA CULTURAL CENTRE
INCORPORATING THE KENYA NATIONAL THEATRE

SANAA POST
THE HOME OF AFRICAN ARTISTRY

Coca-Cola Beverages Africa Kenya

WESTON HOTEL
Hospitality at its finest

BLUE LILAC TOURS & TRAVEL

ULTRA EVENTS

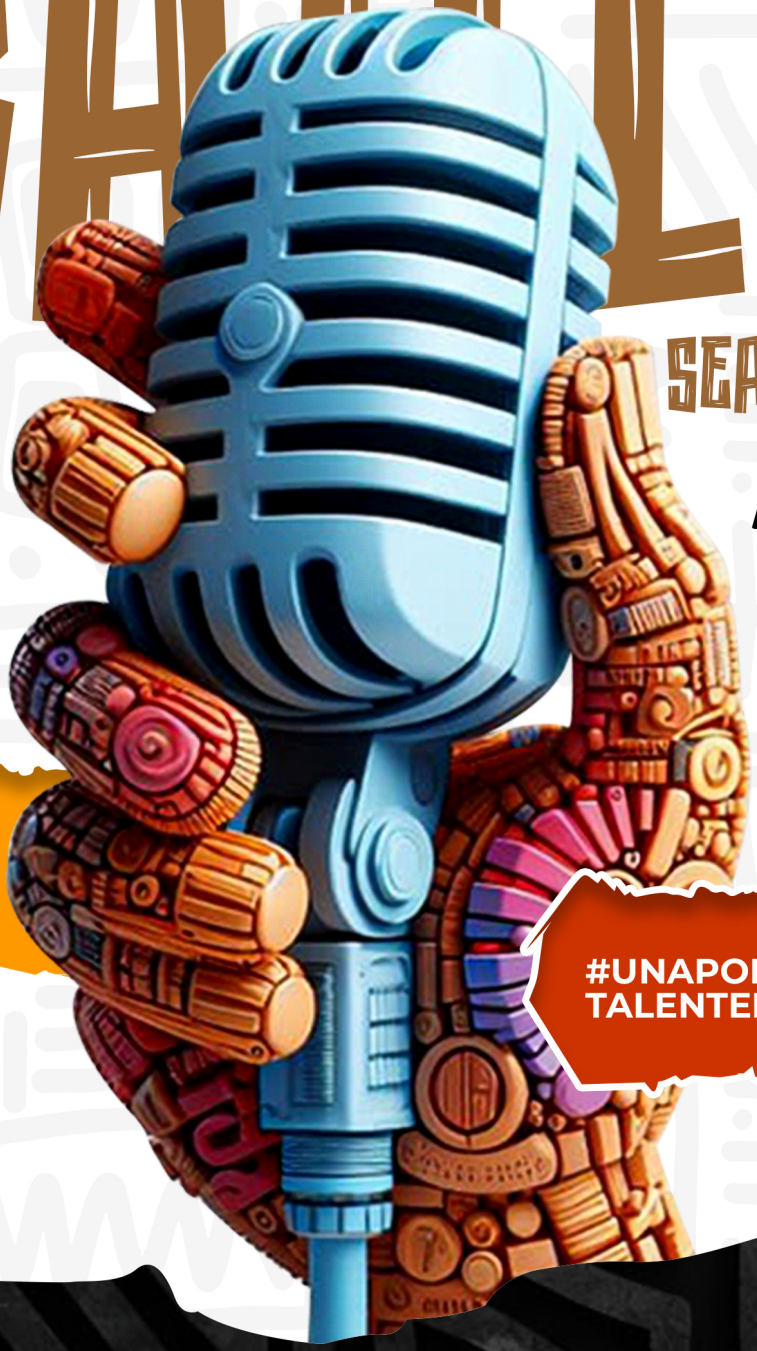
AASU
... in the students movement since 1972

SPM BUZZ

AFRICA'S CAMPUS BATTLE
UNAPOLOGETICALLY TALENTED

AFRICA'S CAMPUS BATTLE

SEASON 7



COMING SOON

#UNAPOLOGETICALLY TALENTED

AFRICA'S CAMPUS BATTLE

UNAPOLOGETICALLY TALENTED

Africa's Campus Battle

Africa's Campus Battle

Africa's Campus Battle

Africacampusbattle